

Level 1 Marketing School

September 24-25, 2010
North Platte, Nebraska

Cornerstone Cattle Marketing Schools are two day seminars for livestock producers who are looking to improve their business model and focus on consistent profitability. All livestock industry segments, operation sizes and geographical origins are welcome and can greatly benefit from the CCM Method. Just some of the concepts covered at Cornerstone Cattle Marketing Schools include:

- How to maximize cash flow while minimizing market risk. The cash flow from a livestock operation can be just as regular as any job and just as secure.
- How to identify the best buys in today's market.
- How to identify the classes of cattle that are the most overpriced and should be sold immediately.
- Why grass in reserve is as good as money in the bank
- How to know if owning cattle through the feedlot will pay before you do it.

What other cattlemen are saying about Cornerstone Cattle Marketing Schools:

"That was the best $500 I have ever spent"

"The relative simplicity and the potential results to be gained by implementing and working the CCM program is probably the best tool I have been presented in any context."

"This is the greatest thing since buttered bread."

"You've opened . . . okay, SMASHED the door open to some amazing possibilities in the cattle business."

"I also have a B.S. in Mathematics and the numbers you presented do not lie. The math was accurate and simple."

"I attended one of your schools four years ago. After all that time I finally discovered what is wrong with your teachings....you didn't prepare me for all the taxes I am now faced with paying because I made so much money."

Tuition: $500 per person
